Friends of Engineer Alvin M. James and rain-Dispatcher J. W. Livesay, killed in the recent disaster at Thaxton's, on the corfolk and Western railroad, returned ast evening from the scene of the accident, thither they had gone to recover the odies. They reported that they could iscover no vestige of either body, and he supposation is that they were entirely mrned, or at least to such an extent that he remains were past identification. Even he satisfaction of according a friendly and thristian burial to these victims of the accident is thus denied.

The banquet of the Alumni Association William and Mary was celebrated yesday evening at Spencer's Heel and was gely attended by the friends of the old thiution from different parts of the unity. The banquet hall was decorated the evergreens, and the table extended a entire length of the beautiful dining intry. The barouler and we have extended a entire length of the beautiful dining il. The bill of fare was handsome in tet up" and the promise who hit gave an elegant entertainment was amply filled. General William B. Taliaderro, a president of the Alumni Association, esided, with General Joseph E. Johnson upon his right and the Hon. John L. Ichanan on his left, while Colonel earge W. Palmore, the vice-president, was ated at the other end of the table, with idge W. W. Crump, president of the Visirial Board, at his right, and the veneral expressident of the college, Benjamin Ewell, at his left. Telegrams were read om Dr. Samuel Marsh, of New York, and J. F. Mitchell, of Maryland, regretting hat missing railroad connection preventd their attendance.

TOASTS. After full justice had been done the good ings that our host, J. B. Spencer, had so stefully served, the President announced the following set toasts:

1. The Commonwealth of Virginia:

"My country.

Dearly must we prize thee, we who find in thee a bulwark of the cause of men."

Response by Hon, John L. Buchanan, 2. The College of William and Mary : These are the gems my children gave,
The stately dame replied;

THE FINAL BALL.

The ceremonies incident to the commencement were closed by the final ball given by the students last night in the handsome ball-room and was largely attended. The number of visitors present was unusually large. Among them was Mrs. ex.President Tyler, in black lace and train over white silk; diamond ornaments; and your correspondent heard the remark that "Mrs. Tyler looks more youthful and handsome, if possible, than she did twenty years ago." Miss Alise Coke, Miss Emily Cary, Miss Mary Starke, Miss Florence Bidgood, and Miss Lille Mouterro, of Rehmond; Miss Nannie Young and Miss Kittle Young, of Warwick; Miss Lucy Striker, of Yorktown; Miss Nina Tahaferro, Miss Countess Scawell, Miss E. H. Seawell, of Gloucester; Miss Lutie Bernard, Miss Nannie Mann, of Friersburg, and Miss Lucy Say, of Shrithfield.

NORFOLK AND PORTSMOUTH. A Bedraggied Crowd-Navy-Yard Notes

Nouroux, July 5, 1889.

It was getting on towards daybreak this morning before the last train arrived from Ocean View with yesterday's gay revellers. Thousands songht the seashore yesterday despite the pluvial discomfort, and the trains to Virginia Beach and the View were crowded at every trip, but a more wet and bedraggied growd is seldom seen.

The Norfolk Light Artillery Blues and the Loe Rifles had picked nines at Gymnasium Park this afternoon playing for the Retreat for the Sick.

A gang of boys have been put to work in the navy-yard to heat rivet-heads for the battle-ship Texas.

The visitors in town yesterday from the overflowed sections all gave deplorable accounts of the work of the fi-ods and the total loss of the crops for this season.

Rev. Dr. R. M. Saunders, a well-known former minister of the Virginia Conference, who moved from here to Jackson, Mins., list year, had a fall a few days ago and broke his collar-bone and severely injured his face and head and right shoulder and arm.

Michael Tilid, of Baltimore, a sawyer at the mill of George G. Tylor on the Southern branch, was drowned yesterday afternoon by the capsizing of a boat. The body was recovered to-day.

To-day Captain Thomas J. Fritzinger, an old citizen of Norfolk and who for many years was commander of vessels, died at his home, on Fayette street, after a lengthened illness.

PULLMAN SCREPING.CAR ACCOMMODAS

The Fourth of July was more generally observed in this city on yesterday than for a long time. The post-office, banks, and nearly all the business-houses were closed, and our people took a regular holiday.

The Monticello Guard gave d dress-parade in the morning, and then went out to Cochran's mill, near this city, to have a pic-nic and target-practice. The morning was spent very pleasantly, and the target-practice came off in the afternoon.

Mr. John J. Lipop won the company's medal for the best shot, scoring twenty-one points out of a possible twenty-five. Lieutenant M. F. Roberts won the individual gold medal offered by Captain T. S. Keller. The following five gentlemen, who made the highest score in the first contest, participated in the second contest
